Are you making the right decisions?

be useful.

It's not always easy to know what the right decision is. Are you always assured you are making the right decisions?

Here are some suggestions when you have to make a decision and especially one that may have more significant consequences.

First, keep in mind that God knows everything and whole picture and will care about the consequences considering all involved wanting the best for all. Therefore, asking him before inquiring others or the internet would Go into your heart and ask God from there and feel the answer. Ask him first and allow him to guide you to the perfect and right outlet for the information required if you can't hear or feel the answer immediately.

If you are guided to the internet, surrender the search to God before you start.

Are you making a decision based on the outcome to you alone? One of the things that differs in Heaven is they try to take into consideration all involved to create the best outcome for as many as possible.

Tools such as using a pendulum to access additional insights can be useful to some but there are several recommendations that may make the answers more effective. One, clear yourself by do deep breaths several times. Breathing in through the nose, holding the inhale, breathing out through the mouth and then holding and repeating at least several times, may provide more clarity in your answers. Also, direct the question to the part of you or the individual you would like to respond. For example, if you want to know what your inner child thinks, ask the question of him or her. If you want to have your high self answer, ask him or her. If you want God to answer, ask him. But, regardless, be within your heart when you ask.

A quick trick if you are in the story trying to choose the right item, you can ask your body while standing in front of or with the product. For example, if looking for vitamins and wondering if you need Vitamin C. You can ask your body if you need Vitamin C. If your body leans forward, it is a yes. If it leans backward, it is a no. If you get a yes, then you want to know which brand is appropriate. You can hold the bottle at your solar plexus and ask then. If your body leans forward, it is a yes, and back, a no. You can keep doing that until you find the right combination.

If you are attached to the answer, your intellect or willfulness can influence what you get. If you have an emotional attachment, or fear about the answer, it would be something you could ask, but often useful to clear and ask again. Or, if a significant outcome, ask someone else who is not attached. You can use another as a surrogate. Or, you can also have the angels or God speak through them to verify the answer.

Whatever technique I have used, I have ultimately saved time and/or money and helped me do or buy only what is purposeful for my highest good. And certainly I have prevented creating some karma by going in the wrong direction. I think that will be a good subject to discuss in a couple of weeks - how we unknowingly create karma!

These will be some of things we will include in our clearing next Saturday [details below]. Our creation was based on decisions. What we have created have been based on decisions. Clearing those decisions and especially any errors or miscreations and mistakes, as well as any karma created because of them, is useful to release.

I have enjoyed hearing about the various testimonials of life-changing experiences and improvements participants have enjoyed following their participation in these calls.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend.
Blessings,
Joy

challenges you face and the solutions I provide. If there's a fit, we can decide together what options are best for you.

I know this work is unusual for the average person. But, it can change your life and business.
