Important Personal Announcement

This has been a long-overdue announcement but delivered at the time prepared for and guided to share. Archangel Michael wanted to personally introduce me and who I am in the world to only my Facebook personal profile friends and to family, friends, clients, and personal list.

The preparation took place since his first announcement to me in the fall that it was now purposeful to tell the world in order to adequately achieve phase two of our work together. Much work had to be done, however, before his formal announcement was to be made.

This week has been like a roller coaster for me energetically. As I am guided to write this, I am also battling a headache which doesn't surprise me. I was warned this morning that I would be bombarded with negative energies from the writings that took place today just from my personal profile on Facebook.

a contributing author to Big Bold Business. Her chapter addresses how your subconscious is either supporting or sabotaging your success.

Her pro bono work focuses on a global peace and prosperity initiative healing the cause of the imbalances of life to the atrocities affecting all.

Some of you may have followed the messages and dialogue that has occurred since my first coming out Monday morning. Facebook and here are really the only places they wanted me to share. As these messages go out into the ethers, my heavenly team and now today the Army of God have had to respond to the negative reaction.

It is with great love that I am here. It is Archangel Michael's great love of me, that he has now given me the option of not continuing with phase two of the project here and that was due to the reaction.

The following is the link to his formal introduction of me. Some of the latest blog posts are messages also guided to share on Facebook this week, which has contributed to part of the reaction. The latest message on my blog is one from God which would also be useful to read as it was his response to the reaction but it is applicable to you as well.
