Self Mastery

My clients are a perfect example of a commitment to self mastery. Those that come to me are already successful but want to take that success to even greater heights. They are dedicated to releasing from within anything possible that could hold themselves back from reaching even greater heights.

Those greater heights could be more money, recognition, confidence, self awareness, energy, time, success or freedom. Or, it could be improved relationships.

It takes dedication to work on the self. During this time, however, it is more beneficial than ever. As we are moving into the new golden age, it will be harder to work on the self than it is now. The karma that has been coming up for people as of late is to clean it up now to make it easier to move into this next phase.

When we move into the new golden age, the duality experience brings now, will lessen the experience and ability to release karma. Karma helps one grow. Without growth there is less self awareness. Self mastery comes from identifying and working with the parts of the self that could be enhanced. By enhancing the way you view and work with the various aspects of life, you improve the outcomes and experiences of that life.

When you look at your own life, what area(s) would you say you need more mastery in? Do you need technical skills? Is it more discipline? Are your relationships consistency of love, kindness and peace? Are you abundant in all areas of life? Do you speak your truth effortlessly? Are you fully living your passion and purpose?

If you are struggling with any area of life and want to discuss, don't hesitate to reach out and take advantage of our get-acquainted call, which you can see on the left on this page.

It isn't easy to work on the self but it is sure worth the effort. Once you have mastered yourself, you excel and succeed so much easier and fruitfully.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend.

Blessings,
Joy

Lord Kuthumi on Self Mastery

The essence of self-mastery is one of discovering or re-discovering all that you are. You are whole and complete. You are a reflection of light and love from Divine Source. To love you is a path of self-mastery, mastering the ego-chatter of doubt, self-loathing, confusion, fear and any thoughts of lack.

Thoughts of lack include, but are not limited to, not having your soulmate partner in your life, poverty consciousness, lack of self-worth or self-esteem. It may also be about self-doubt, feelings of being unlovable and unaccepted.

Self-Mastery is conquering the Spirit within. It is attained through meditation, healing, releasing, wisdom and eventually understanding the purpose you agreed to fulfill, your unique life's purpose. Be patient, for this is a process, a journey unto itself, it is not a destination.

There is much to learn and much to un-learn along the journey called life in this realm of dense physical matter. There is always a choice to stay where you are or move forward.
