Understanding the New World

In the spiritual realm, Sunday was considered the last day of the old world. Monday was the day of transition and ascension for many and Tuesday was considered the official first day of the new world.

So why is this important to understand and what does that really mean to you, your family and business?

Probably to many of you it means nothing yet. Although many of you have reported to me some of your experiences. And, of course, those of you who are on our private Facebook group below have been privy to more insider information as well as have been able to dialogue regarding some of the specific shifts and experiences noticed.

But here I will give you an overview. More light has flooded the planet over the last couple of years with the ultimate occurring recently culminating in the biggest shift to date. With the force of light coming in, it has stirred up old energies and memories. Some of you, your family, friends, employees and co-workers have experienced some of these dynamics knowingly or unknowingly. The increase of light has pushed up and out the old. Some have been successful at just letting go of any emotions, old ideas, etc. and others, who have been in resistance, may have struggled with more challenges.

Because much of this is on an unconscious basis, not everyone understands where and how this is occurring or affecting experiences and outcomes.

Just remember, the world is shifting to a more positive place. To do so, the old ideas, limiting beliefs, methods of living and doing business need change to bring about more joy, love, peace, balance and abundance. No one is excluded from those possibilities. It is more personal choice to embrace the new and willingness to let go of the old that will make the difference.

People have experienced euphoria, tiredness, anxiety, joy, fear, resistance, peace, etc. Not that these weren't experienced before, but in the last week or so it may have seemed more noticeable or unusual. Some have felt wonderful while they are noticing others reacting more irritably. Situations may have seemed more peaceful for you but others have had more challenges surfacing. That also may have been the case prior but again now more noticeable or to a different degree.

The difference, however, is that now as the issues (old memories and energies) are released, more joy, peace, freedom, love and abundance become more possible. The old and outmoded is lifting for all as a whole, which means over time more will find that joy, peace, love, abundance and balance.

If you and others start feeling better and thinking more positive, everyone will begin to make more choices coming from a place of peace and balance which over time will create better experiences for all. Prior to now, there was much sabotage and undoing that negatively affected much of your efforts to attain and sustain those states on your own.

We are in the infancy of a new world. Give it time. Choose the possibilities that exist for you and others from a place of peace and balance and you will begin to attract, allow, create and experience a better outcome for self and others. The possibilities for all now are endless and will become greatly improved over time.

From my personal experience doing life and business man's way - the way I was brought up - has been much more difficult than following the way God has been showing me. Learning God's way and letting go of the habits of man's limited thinking has been like a dance, trial and error. Following God's way has created effortless living and business making more money with ease with greater fulfillment.

When I think I can do better on my own and look outside of myself for answers, I end up frustrated, overworked, and I spend more money than necessary and usually earn less. But old habits are sometimes difficult to let go of so even now knowing better can sometimes bring me back to man's typical way of thinking and doing vs. the easy way. God's way brings more pleasure and possibility than anything I've ever done before.

Wishing you a wonderful weekend and a whole new world of possibility,

Joy
