Joyful News - 9/22/17

As I will be speaking on "The Hidden Challenges Blocking Real Estate Sales" on Tuesday at the Lakeland Business Leaders Real Estate Power Group, it made me think to share some of the nuances here with you about the significance of clearing property.

All property holds energy of whatever has crossed it's path if hasn't been previously released. In real estate, the land may hold the memories of previous battles fought upon it. A home may hold the memories and energies of all arguments held within it.

When someone goes to a hotel, they are sleeping on the accumulative energies of all who have previously slept there. It reminds me of the signs we used to see all over the northeast of "George Washington slept here". When I clear those locations, I fortunately don't need to consciously know who has slept there. We just need clear the energy to help elevate the situation.

I am reminded that in my 20s before I knew better, I accepted the gift of a mattress from the lady across the hall, whom I liked and trusted. I found myself crying at night feeling lonely and didn't realize I picked up her energy, which she was feeling after she broke up with her boyfriend. When the lightbulb went off and I realized I needed to clear the energy of the mattress, my tears and feelings of loneliness also went away. The tip off in my case should have been that I don't normally feel lonely nor am I usually a crier.

Fortunately, I already knew the process I use to clear. I was just not savvy enough yet at all the applications and necessities for its use. This was a perfect example of learning the hard way. I, therefore, clear all bed and bedding for my regular clients as well because even while they are sleeping, their subconscious fears, memories, concerns and whatever they are releasing or working through in dreams, can become imbedded within the bedding. They have a periodic fresh start when everything is cleaned. You clean your sheets, you might as well clean the energy!

Tuesday I will also be teaching on some of the hidden challenges within property such as ghosts, negative energies, occurrences and curses. I will also be discussing the hidden blocks within the subconscious of a realtor and seller which could be sabotaging the sale of the property.

Over the years I have cleared property all around the world including a number of corporations, financial institutions such as the IRS and the Federal Reserve, churches from local here in Lakeland to the Vatican as well as the private homes of clients preparing for sale, as well as clearing them before they move in.

It has been an interesting discovery of what we might find when I tune into a property and what has been equally interesting is seeing what the angels or God contribute sometimes contribute as gifts to the effort while we do the work.

As I write this, I should consider sharing some of those stories in the future because they are useful to understanding the hidden dynamics of life.

And, of course, in alignment with that effort, we will be addressing some of those hidden causes of people's challenges in our next group clearing call (see below). It always amazes me some of what we uncover that is holding people back from their ultimate potential.

In the interim...

Wishing you a wonderful weekend!

Blessings,

Joy

Superstition, Ritual, Sabotage, etc.

In light of the Halloween next month, we will include a number of subjects that not only relate to the event but that are useful to clear for all.

I love that so many of you have become regulars and have reported such wonderful results from your participation on these monthly calls. Each month provides the opportunity to dig deeper and release more layers. They also provide the chance to clear with more people and new subjects with this profound opportunity from Heaven.
